

Assure Health & Safety Consultants Limited specialises in construction related health and safety, providing a full range of consultancy and training services to the construction sector.

These include:

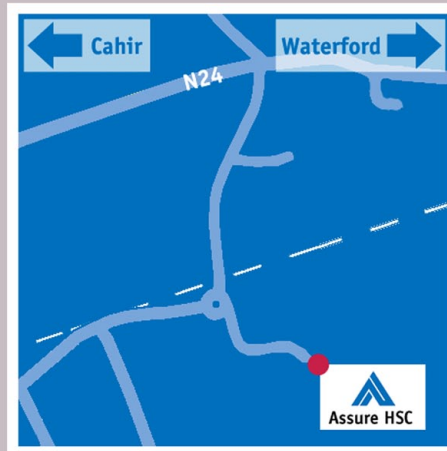

- Assisting Clients in the assessment of competency
- Developing policies and procedures for risk management
- Project Supervisor Design Process
- Providing advice on best practice in Client and Designers areas of responsibility
- Accident Investigation
- Training Designers in risk management during the design process
- Client specific health and safety training

Assure undertake the role of project supervisor for the design process on a project-by-project basis. We run risk workshops to coordinate design activity, review design risk assessments for completeness and adequacy, and work with the designers and contractors to manage risks during the design process.

Assure applies the same approach to contractor appointed designers, in particular temporary works designers, and also works with Integrated Facilities Solutions to produce a Digital Project Manual™, as the safety file for the project.

“We want to help you maximise your ability to positively influence health and safety on your projects.”

Designing for Health & Safety

Health and safety expertise for any building project, from construction and use, to maintenance and demolition.

Health & Safety Consultants

Assure Health and Safety Consultants Limited provides high-quality service to the construction sector. We specialise in the management of health and safety during procurement and the design process of building and civil engineering projects. We work closely with design teams, providing assistance on the implementation of design risk assessments.

Assure Health & Safety Consultants Limited has over 25 years experience in the construction sector; principally in design, construction and health & safety.

Assure Health & Safety Consultants provide technical advice and assistance in the preparation of guidance documents and codes of practice and have also assisted in the development of strategic policies for the management of health and safety on large infrastructural government funded projects.

Our wealth of experience and expertise allows Assure Health & Safety Consultants to work closely with our clients to determine best practice for discharging statutory roles under health and safety legislation.
